The Current State of Play: States Act with Stay at Home Orders and Relaxation of Licensure Requirements for Healthcare Providers

This content was originally published on March 25, 2020. It was last updated as of Monday, April 20, 2020 at 5:00 p.m. CST.

Alabama: State Health Officer, Dr. Scott Harris, issued an order prohibiting large gatherings, closing beaches and directing non-essential businesses to close. Visitors are prohibited at long-term care facilities, subject to exceptions, and all elective dental and medical procedures must be postponed, effective through April 17. On April 2, Governor Kay Ivey issued an order expanding the scope of practice for certain healthcare providers and expediting the licensing process for out-of-state practitioners. On April 3, Dr. Harris issued an amended order requiring citizens to stay at home until April 30 unless engaged in essential activities.

Alaska: On March 19, Governor Mike Dunleavy issued COVID-19 Health Mandate 005 and COVID-19 Health Mandate 006, requiring all hospitals and surgical centers to postpone or cancel non-urgent medical and dental procedures for 3 months. Certain procedures may resume on April 20. On March 23, Governor Dunleavy issued an order requiring all persons arriving in the state – whether residents or visitors – to self-quarantine for 14 days, subject to limited exceptions. On March 27, Governor Dunleavy issued an order directing all persons to stay at home other than those engaged in certain essential businesses, and additionally imposed domestic travel restrictions. Violations are punishable by fine or imprisonment. On April 13, Governor Dunleavy issued an order implementing a non-congregate quarantine and isolation program for specific populations exposed to COVID-19.

Arizona: On March 19, Governor Douglas A. Ducey issued an order prohibiting healthcare providers and facilities from performing non-essential or elective surgeries (including dental surgeries) that utilize PPE or ventilators. The March 23 Enhanced Surveillance Advisory provides for access to certain confidential patient information by state and local health authorities and imposes certain reporting requirements regarding use of ventilators and PPE. On March 26, Governor Ducey issued an order requiring hospitals to increase bed capacity by 50% by April 24. Governor Ducey's Stay Home, Stay Healthy, Stay Connected policy promotes social distancing and directs non-essential activities and business operations to cease on-site; however, a stay at home order has not yet been issued. On April 2, Governor Ducey issued an order expanding access to pharmacy services. Travelers arriving in the state must self-quarantine for 14 days, with limited exceptions. Screening measures were mandated on April 7 for individuals entering long-term care facilities. On April 14, Governor Ducey issued orders relaxing certification requirements for assisted living caregivers, requiring health plans to expand telemedicine coverage, and permitting disclosure to first responders of limited patient health data for patients testing positive for COVID-19.

Arkansas: Governor Asa Hutchinson suspended certain requirements applicable to telehealth services and generally prohibited large gatherings. Violation of the orders is punishable as a criminal misdemeanor. On March 30, the Arkansas Department of Health issued an advisory recommending that travelers arriving in the state from certain high-risk regions self-quarantine for 14 days. No state-level stay at home order has been issued for Arkansas residents. On April 13, Governor Hutchinson created the Medical Advisory Committee to determine the state's public health strategy after reaching the peak of COVID-19 cases. Governor Hutchinson issued orders suspending certain regulations to maintain adequate healthcare professional staffing and provide for workers compensation for certain first responders. On April 18, Governor Hutchinson issued an order containing economic restoration measures for certain businesses and industries.

California: On March 19, Governor Gavin Newsom issued an order directing residents to comply with the State Department of Public Health Order requiring residents to stay at home and certain resources such as PPE to be conserved. Californians working in critical sectors may continue their work. Refusal to comply with, or willful neglect of, the executive order is a criminal misdemeanor punishable by fine or confinement. On April 16, Governor Newsom issued an order waiving certain requirements pertaining to the release of COVID-19 testing to patients via electronic means.

Colorado: Governor Jared Polis directed certain hospitals and facilities to cease non-essential procedures until April 26. Hospitals and facilities must preserve PPE, ventilators and respirators for allocation to COVID-19 response efforts. Colorado residents must stay at home until April 26 unless engaged in certain critical activities, and non-critical businesses must temporarily close, pursuant to orders issued by Governor Polis and the Department of Public Health. Failure to comply could result in fines or imprisonment. On April 1 and April 11, Governor Polis temporarily suspended certain telemedicine requirements. Governor Polis also suspended certain behavioral health facility regulations to facilitate remote access to healthcare and other professional services. On April 15, Governor Polis issued an order to allow for cross-training of certain medical professionals. On April 17, Governor Polis ordered certain personnel in critical sectors to wear face coverings.

Connecticut: On March 20, Governor Ned Lamont issued an order requiring all non-essential businesses and nonprofits to reduce in-person workforces by 100% and employ remote working arrangements, except for those in critical sectors. The order will remain in effect until May 20. Governor Lamont's Stay Safe, Stay Home initiative directs Connecticut residents not to leave their homes for medical care unless advised to do so during a telehealth visit with a healthcare professional. On April 5, Governor Lamont issued an order preventing surprise medical bills during the COVID-19 pandemic. On April 7, Governor Lamont suspended certain statutes regarding nursing home bed reservations and discharge planning on April 11. In an April 15 order, Governor Lamont suspended certain regulations to allow for the approval of additional nursing home beds for COVID-19 recovery. On April 17, Governor Lamont ordered the use of cloth face coverings in public with certain limited exceptions.

Delaware: Governor John Carney directed Delaware residents to stay home unless engaged in essential activities and ordered non-essential businesses to close. Failure to comply with these recent measures amounts to a criminal offense. On March 29, Governor Carney ordered travelers arriving in Delaware from another state – whether residents or visitors – to self-quarantine for 14 days, subject to limited exceptions. Governor Carney also required state buildings and essential businesses deemed high-risk to screen employees and visitors upon entering. Governor Carney issued an order prohibiting large gatherings, with limited exceptions, and requiring businesses to adhere to customer occupancy guidelines. On April 15, Governor Carney issued an order directing certain nursing facilities to implement additional measures to protect vulnerable residents.

District of Columbia: Mayor Muriel Bowser issued an order on March 24 prohibiting large gatherings and directing non-essential businesses to cease in-person operations. Essential businesses include businesses in healthcare and public health operations, among others. On March 30, Mayor Bowser issued a stay at home order, which has been extended through May 15. Violation of either order can result in civil, criminal or administrative penalties.

Florida: On March 20, Governor Ron DeSantis issued Executive Order No. 20-72, generally prohibiting practitioners from performing certain non-elective medical and dental procedures. On March 23 and March 24, Governor DeSantis issued Executive Order No. 20-80 and Executive Order No. 20-80, generally requiring travelers arriving from certain locations with substantial community spread to self-quarantine for up to 14 days upon arrival. On April 1, Governor DeSantis ordered certain vulnerable individuals to stay at home, and all other Florida residents must only leave their homes to obtain or provide essential services or conduct essential activities. Large gatherings are prohibited and non-essential businesses must limit on-premises operations or close.

Georgia: On March 23, Governor Brian Kemp issued an order effective until April 6 requiring certain vulnerable populations to stay home and prohibiting large gatherings in the workplace. Businesses and other organizations that fail to comply with the order may be involuntarily closed by the Department of Health for as long as the order remains in effect. On April 2, Governor Kemp issued an order generally requiring residents to stay at home. Violation of the order constitutes a criminal misdemeanor. On April 20, Governor Kemp issued an order containing measures for healthcare providers, including physician and dental practices, to resume providing certain services. Certain other businesses may resume operations as well.

Guam: Governor Lourdes Guerrero issued an order requiring certain non-essential Guam governmental offices to close and limiting large gatherings, which will remain in effect until May 5. Healthcare facilities and providers are directed, as a condition of licensure, to provide any and all services and assist with treating patients in light of the COVID-19 pandemic. Failure to comply with the order may result in civil penalties. Guam authorities have not yet issued a stay at home order.

Hawaii: Governor David Ige issued a proclamation on March 23 directing all Hawaii residents to stay home unless obtaining necessities or engaged in certain essential activities, effective through April 30. Only certain businesses in critical sectors may continue to operate in-person workforces. Large gatherings are generally prohibited. Any intentional or knowing violation of the order is a criminal misdemeanor punishable by fine or confinement. Incoming travelers to Hawaii or between Hawaiian islands are required to self-quarantine for 14 days pursuant to emergency proclamations issued on March 26 and March 31.

Idaho: On March 25, Dave Jeppeson, Director of the Department of Health & Welfare, issued an Order to Self-Isolate for the State of Idaho (subject to limited exceptions), which has been extended through April 30. Large gatherings are prohibited and non-essential business activities must cease. Individuals arriving in Idaho from another state or country are directed to self-quarantine for 14-days with certain exceptions.

Illinois: Governor J. B. Pritzker issued an order on March 20, requiring all individuals to stay in their place of residence and banning large gatherings, except to carry out certain essential activities. Essential businesses permitted to remain in operation include pharmacies, hospitals, clinics, physician and dental practices, home health services and long-term care facilities, among others. An order issued on April 1 extended the terms of the March 20 order to remain effective through April 30. Governor Pritzker issued an order and the Illinois Department of Public Health issued guidance on its website requiring that all elective and non-emergent surgeries and procedures be canceled. The Department's guidance includes recommendations for reallocating healthcare staff, space for treatment and supplies.

Indiana: Governor Holcomb issued a stay at home order for Indiana residents that limited large gatherings, imposed social distancing requirements and restricted non-essential on-site business operations and other activities. On March 30, Governor Holcomb ordered the cancellation or postponement of elective and non-urgent surgeries and expanded access to telehealth services. An April 7 order relaxed certain professional licensure requirements and updated sick and family leave benefits available to certain mental and behavioral health professionals. On April 8, State Health Commissioner Kristina Box imposed certain COVID-19 test reporting requirements on laboratories and long-term care facilities. On April 14, Commissioner Box issued an order concerning the relocation of certain long-term care facility residents during the COVID-19 pandemic. In an April 15 order, Governor Holcomb suspending certain licensure requirements for recent pharmacy school graduates.

Iowa: Governor Kimberly Reynolds ordered certain non-essential businesses to close, relaxing certain healthcare professional licensure requirements and requiring healthcare facilities to screen personnel through April 30. On March 26, Governor Reynolds issued another proclamation ordering all medical and dental surgeries utilizing PPE to be cancelled and suspending certain telemedicine regulations. An April 6 order directed additional non-essential businesses to close and limited large gatherings. A stay at home order has not yet been issued by state authorities.

Kansas: The Kansas Department of Health and Environment issued a Toolkit on COVID-19 recommending that hospitals limit non-critical use of ventilators and cancel or postpone elective procedures that might require use of ventilators. On March 28, Governor Laura Kelly issued an order directing Kansas residents to stay at home unless performing an essential activity through May 3. Governor Kelly issued an order limiting large gatherings, with limited exceptions. On April 9 and April 15, Governor Kelly waived certain occupational, professional and facility licensure requirements.

Kentucky: Governor Andy Beshear issued an order on March 22 directing certain retailers to cease in-store operations. On March 23, the Secretary for the Cabinet for Health and Family Services, Eric Friedlander, issued a directive requiring all medical, surgical, dental and any other non-urgent procedures to cease and recommending telehealth alternatives to care. Governor Beshear instructed residents not to travel out-of-state, with limited exceptions, and directs travelers arriving in the state to self-quarantine for 14-days. As of April 8, retailers must limit the number of shoppers allowed to enter the business to one adult member per household. Governor Beshear has not yet issued a stay at home order.

Louisiana: The Director of the Louisiana Department of Health, Dr. Jimmy Guidry, issued a Healthcare Facility Notice on March 21 requiring all non-emergent medical and surgical procedures to be postponed. The notice also directed healthcare providers to transition in-person healthcare services to a telehealth mode of delivery or postpone in-person services as practicable. On March 22, Governor John Bel Edwards issued a proclamation limiting large gatherings and directing certain non-essential businesses to close. Residents are directed to stay at home unless engaged in certain essential activities or working in a critical sector. The limitations imposed by the order do not extend to normal operations at medical facilities. On March 31, Governor Edwards issued a proclamation temporarily suspending certain practitioner licensure requirements and limiting funeral service attendees.

Maine: Governor Janet Mills issued an order on March 24 generally directing businesses to transition in-person workforces to remote arrangements and employ social distancing measures for workforces on-premises. Certain non-essential businesses that are unable to implement these measures must close. Non-urgent medical and dental procedures, surgeries and appointments should generally be postponed and remote care alternatives are encouraged. Large gatherings are restricted until April 8. Failure to comply with the order is punishable as a Class E crime. Governor Mills issued an order on March 31, ordering residents to stay at home except to conduct essential activities. Violation of the order constitutes a criminal misdemeanor. On April 3, Governor Mills issued an order directing travelers arriving in Maine to self-quarantine for 14-days upon arrival, with certain exceptions, and instructing visitors not to travel to Maine if they exhibit COVID-19 symptoms or have traveled from regions identified as COVID-19 "hot spots." On April 6, Governor Mills issued an order suspending enforcement of certain licensing statutes and regulations for healthcare providers.

Maryland: On March 16, Governor Lawrence J. Hogan, Jr. issued an order suspending certain requirements applicable to healthcare providers and practitioners. Secretary of Health, Robert Neall, issued an order requiring hospitals, ambulatory surgical centers and other licensed healthcare facilities to cease non-urgent medical procedures. Practitioners may only perform critically necessary medical procedures, and non-urgent appointments must cease. The order also implemented measures for conservation of PPE. Governor Hogan issued another order that was amended on March 30, ordering citizens to stay at home except to participate in certain essential activities, prohibiting large gatherings and requiring that businesses, other than those in certain critical sectors, close. Violation of the order constitutes a criminal misdemeanor. Governor Hogan issued an amended order on April 1 relaxing certain requirements pertaining to telehealth transmission methods. In an April 15 order, Governor Hogan ordered retailers to implement physical distancing measures and face-covering requirements for personnel. In a separate order, Governor Hogan placed restrictions on the dispensing of drugs that may be necessary to treat COVID-19, including hydroxychloroquine.

Massachusetts: On March 15, the Commissioner of the Massachusetts Department of Public Health, Dr. Monica Bharel, issued an order directing all hospitals and ambulatory surgical centers to postpone or cancel any non-essential, elective invasive procedures pursuant to the Department of Public Health's guidance. On March 23, Governor Charles Baker issued an order stating that certain businesses providing essential services should continue operations with in-person workforces. Other businesses were directed to continue operations remotely or, if impracticable, then to close until May 4. Most large gatherings are prohibited. Violation of the order can result in criminal penalties or civil fines. On March 24, the Massachusetts Department of Public Health issued an advisory, which strongly advises certain vulnerable populations and individuals not engaged in providing essential services to stay at home. On April 2, April 3 and April 9, Commissioner Bharel issued orders suspending certain professional licensure requirements in light of COVID-19. Governor Baker also issued an order containing surprise billing protections.

Michigan: Governor Gretchen Whitmer issued an order directing Michigan residents to stay home unless engaged in certain essential activities, including reporting to work for certain critical infrastructure workers. Governor Whitmer also directed all hospitals and facilities to postpone all non-essential medical and dental procedures. Violation of the terms of either order constitutes a criminal misdemeanor. Governor Whitmer issued an order directing healthcare facilities to prohibit visitors, with certain exceptions, and to perform health screening on all individuals entering the facility. In an April 15 order, Governor Whitmer outlined protections for long-term care facility residents and employees, including procedures related to transfer and discharge of COVID-19 patients.

Minnesota: Governor Tim Walz issued executive orders on March 19 and on March 23 requiring that all non-essential procedures that utilize PPE or ventilators be postponed indefinitely. Violation of either order is a criminal misdemeanor punishable by fine or imprisonment. Governor Walz issued orders on March 25, on April 8 and on April 17 ordering persons living in Minnesota to stay at home except to engage in certain activities and critical sector work until May 3. On April 6, Governor Walz issued an order permitting certain out-of-state mental health providers to render telehealth services and relaxing certain licensure requirements for dentists. On April 10, Governor Walz ordered the Department of Health to disclose to first responders via the 911-dispatch system limited patient health data for individuals testing positive for COVID-19.

Mississippi: In a March 23 COVID-19 Health Alert and an April 10 order, healthcare providers are ordered to postpone surgeries, non-urgent procedures and medical visits until the COVID-19 spread has diminished and the supply of PPE has been restored. On March 24, Governor Tate Reeves issued an order restricting public gatherings, suspending dine-in services, limiting visitations to nursing homes and requiring essential businesses to remain open . On April 1, Governor Reeves issued an order requiring residents to stay at home, except under certain circumstances, and requiring non-essential businesses to close until April 27. Certain non-essential businesses are followed. Violation of the order could result in civil or criminal penalties. In an April 10 order, Governor Reeves relaxed certain professional licensing regulations and hospital/medical staff credentialing requirements. In an April 10 order, Governor Reeves authorized government departments to amend or rescind certain professional licensing regulations and hospital/medical staff credentialing requirement.

Missouri: On March 15, Governor Mike Parson issued a statement generally prohibiting large gatherings. On March 30, Governor Parson approved a waiver granting full reciprocity for licensed out-of-state healthcare professionals wishing to assist Missourians in combating the current healthcare crisis. On April 16, the Director of the Department of Health and Senior Services, Randall W. William, MD, FACOG, amended the April 3 statewide order directing residents to stay at home and non-essential businesses to close until May 3.

Montana: On March 26, Governor Steve Bullock issued a directive requiring Montana residents to stay at home. Non-essential business operations must continue remotely or cease and large gatherings are prohibited until April 24.

Nebraska: On March 16, Governor Pete Ricketts issued an order prohibiting state employees from out-of-state travel. On March 25, March 29, March 31 and April 1, Chief Medical Officer and Director of Public Health, Dr. Gary Anthone, issued orders generally restricting non-essential business operations and large gatherings in certain counties. On April 3, Dr. Anthone issued a stay at home order for the remaining counties not mentioned previously, which was extended through April 30. The orders also generally prohibit elective surgeries and procedures. Violations could result in civil or criminal penalties. Governor Ricketts signed an order on March 31, which suspends licensure requirements for various practitioners and facilities among other regulatory requirements. Dr. Anthone issued a Directed Health Measure on April 10 prohibiting organized group sports and directing business owners unable to implement social distancing procedures to close.

Nevada: Governor Stephen F. Sisolak issued a directive on March 20 directing non-essential businesses to close through April 16. On March 31, Governor Sisolak issued a directive for all Nevada residents to stay home. The order prohibits large gatherings and directs residents to only leave their homes to provide, perform, or obtain essential services. On April 1, Governor Sisolak issued a directive temporarily suspending certain professional licensing requirements.

New Hampshire: On March 26, Governor Christopher Sununu issued an order directing New Hampshire residents to stay home and for certain businesses (other than essential businesses) to cease operations, effective through May 4. Governor Sununu issued a non-congregate sheltering order on April 7 for first responders and healthcare workers at risk of COVID-19 exposure who cannot return to their homes.

New Jersey: On March 21, Governor Philip Murphy issued an order, which requires New Jersey residents to stay home unless engaged in certain essential activities. On March 23, Governor Murphy issued another order, generally suspending elective medical and dental surgeries and invasive procedures and requesting donations of surplus PPE and other supplies. Noncompliance with either order could result in criminal penalties. On March 28, Governor Murphy released an order imposed daily capacity reporting requirements on certain healthcare facilities. On April 1 and April 17, Governor Murphy suspended certain professional licensing requirements. On April 2, Governor Murphy issued an order authorizing the State Director of Emergency Management to take or use personal services and/or real or personal property, including medical resources, to protect or promote public health, safety and welfare.

New Mexico: Cabinet Secretary Kathlyleen Kunkel of New Mexico's Department of Health issued an order on March 24 prohibiting large gatherings and directing businesses and nonprofits other than those deemed essential to reduce in-person workforces, maintain operations on a remote basis or close. Retailers must limit sales of PPE, medications and other healthcare supplies. New Mexico residents must stay at home and avoid unnecessary outings. Cabinet Secretary Kunkel issued another order imposing restrictions on non-essential healthcare services, procedures and surgeries. Noncompliance with this order could result in civil or criminal penalties. On April 2, Governor Michelle Lujan Grisham issued an order authorizing certain Canadian nursing professionals to practice in any New Mexico healthcare facility during the COVID-19 pandemic.

New York: Governor Andrew Cuomo's New York State on PAUSE Executive Order requires 100% of the workforce to stay home, other than workers in certain critical sectors, and limits large gatherings. Vulnerable populations in the state are now subject to Matilda's Law, which strongly discourages use of public transportation and limits home visits to immediate family members in urgent circumstances, provided that any such visitors have been prescreened for flu-like symptoms. Governor Cuomo also issued an order directing the Commissioner of Health to require hospitals, ambulatory surgery centers, office-based surgery practices and diagnostic centers to increase the number of beds available to patients by means including the cancellation of all elective surgeries and procedures. On April 12, Governor Cuomo ordered essential employees to wear face coverings, provided by the employer, when in direct contact with the general public. Governor Cuomo issued another order on April 15 requiring all individuals over age two to wear a mask or cloth face-covering when in public and unable to maintain social distance. On April 16, Governor Cuomo extended certain restrictions on business operations through May 15.

North Carolina: On March 20, the Secretary of North Carolina's Department of Health and Human Services, Dr. Mandy Cohen, directed hospitals and ambulatory surgery centers to suspend non-urgent procedures. Governor Roy Cooper issued an order on March 23 prohibiting mass gatherings and ordering certain businesses to close. Long-term care facilities are generally directed to restrict visitors to essential healthcare personnel only. On March 27, Governor Cooper issued an order directing residents to stay at home unless engaged in certain essential activities or business operations. Noncompliance is punishable as a Class 2 misdemeanor. On April 8, Governor Cooper issued an order designed to increase hospital beds and supplies and waive certain regulations to expand the pool of healthcare workers and telehealth operations. Governor Cooper signed an order on April 9 implementing strict social distancing requirements for retail stores and nursing homes.

North Dakota: On March 19, Governor Doug Burgum issued an order, directing certain businesses to close and state agencies to transition non-essential personnel to remote working arrangements. On March 20, Governor Burgum issued another order, suspending certain licensure requirements for healthcare professionals, hospitals and other healthcare facilities. Certain regulatory requirements for the provision of telehealth services were also suspended by the order. State Health Officer, Mylynn Tufte, released a confinement order requiring individuals traveling to North Dakota from international or domestic locations to self-quarantine for 14 days, with some exceptions. On April 6, Governor Burgum directed individuals who had tested positive for COVID-19, among others, to self-quarantine and restricted visitation to long-term care facilities. State authorities have not yet issued a stay at home order for North Dakota residents.

Northern Mariana Islands: On March 17, Governor Ralph DLG Torres issued an order shutting down all non-essential government functions for 2 weeks and limiting large gatherings. On March 28, Governor Torres issued a statement recommending that residents only leave their homes for certain essential activities; however, the statement did not amount to a stay at home order.

Ohio: On March 17, Department of Health Director, Dr. Amy Acton, issued an order directing that all non-essential procedures be cancelled and that PPE and critical hospital capacity resources be preserved. Director Acton amended the March 22 Stay At Home Order on April 2 directing Ohio residents to stay at home unless engaged in certain essential activities (such as working in a critical sector) until May 1. On March 30, Director Acton issued an order broadly imposing weekly reporting requirements for entities in the ventilator supply chain. On April 1, Director Acton released an order containing measures to increase COVID-19 testing by hospitals and physicians in Ohio. On April 4, Governor Mike DeWine signed an order suspending certain requirements applicable to individual counselors, social workers, and marriage and family counselors. Dr. Acton issued an order on April 15 requiring nursing homes and residential facilities to notify residents, guardians and sponsors of positive or probable cases of COVID-19. On April 16, Governor DeWine announced his plan to reopen the economy beginning May 1.

Oklahoma: On March 21, Governor J. Kevin Stitt issued an order easing requirements for recertification of nurses and limiting certain prescriptions. On March 27, Governor Stitt placed a moratorium on out-of-state travel for state employees, suspended certain lab certification requirements, and further relaxed certain professional licensure and telehealth requirements, among others. This order also imposed reporting requirements on hospitals and physician clinics with respect to capacity, ventilator and PPE inventory, and COVID-19 testing. Certain vulnerable populations were directed to stay at home unless working in a critical sector or engaging in essential errands. Large gatherings are prohibited and non-essential on-site business operations must cease and visitors are prohibited in various long-term care facilities. As of March 29, travelers arriving in Oklahoma from a location with substantial community spread must self-quarantine for 14 days, with limited exceptions. Governor Stitt's order issued on April 1 expands hospitals' and physician clinics' equipment reporting requirements and provides that all elective surgeries, minor medical procedures and non-emergency dental procedures must be postponed until April 30.

Oregon: Governor Kate Brown issued an order on March 19 prohibiting non-urgent procedures in all care settings utilizing PPE and directing hospitals and facilities to conserve surplus PPE. New limitations and screening measures must be implemented at hospitals and facilities for any visitors. On March 23, Governor Brown issued another order, requiring residents to stay home and refrain from travel to the maximum extent possible and directing certain non-essential businesses to operate on a remote basis or close. Violation of either order amounts to a Class C criminal misdemeanor.

Pennsylvania: On March 28, the Governor announced temporary license waivers for healthcare workers. On April 1, Dr. Rachel Levine, the Secretary of Health, directed all Pennsylvania residents to stay home except as needed to access, support or provide certain life-sustaining services until April 30. Non-essential businesses must close on-premise operations and elective procedures in hospitals and ambulatory surgical centers are prohibited. Failure to comply could result in criminal penalties. Governor Wolf also signed a bill providing funds to healthcare providers to purchase medical equipment and supplies. On April 8, Governor Wolf issued an order imposing inventory reporting requirements on manufacturers, distributors and consumers in the supply chain for PPE and other medical resources. Governor Wolf introduced a three-phase plan for gradually resuming business operations on April 17.

Puerto Rico: On April 12, Governor Wanda Vázquez Garced amended the March 15 order requiring individuals to remain in their homes and directing all non-essential businesses and governmental operations to close until May 3. Individuals may leave their homes for certain exceptions, including to obtain necessities and medical care, and to work if engaged in essential operations. Residents are subject to a 9:00 p.m. curfew; however, exceptions are made for emergencies and personnel engaged in essential health and public service operations. Residents who fail to comply with these terms could face criminal penalties and fines. On March 30, Governor Vázquez Garced issued an order requiring travelers arriving in Puerto Rico from the United States or any international destination to self-quarantine for 14 days, with limited exceptions. On April 2, Governor Vázquez Garced issued an order imposing certain reporting requirements with respect to COVID-19 testing results. Governor Vázquez Garced announced COVID-19 testing requirements and employees.

Rhode Island: Governor Raimondo issued an order on March 18 expanding access to telemedicine services. On March 28, Governor Raimondo issued an order requiring residents to stay at home, prohibiting large gatherings and directing non-critical retail businesses to cease operations. The order additionally required travelers arriving in Rhode Island from another state to self-quarantine for 14 days, with limited exceptions. On April 7, bed capacity and certain inventory reporting requirements were imposed on hospitals. Governor Raimondo issued an order on April 10 increasing hospital and nursing facility capacity. On April 14, Governor Raimondo signed an order requiring certain employees working on-premises to wear masks during their shifts and for businesses employing such employees to make masks available to them.

South Carolina: Governor Henry McMaster issued an order on March 19, prohibiting certain non-essential state employees from reporting in-person to work and temporarily suspending enforcement of certain healthcare regulations. The order also provided for emergency procurement of critical healthcare resources and supplies. Noncompliance with the order is a criminal misdemeanor. In a press conference announcing the order, Governor McMaster indicated that healthcare providers should no longer perform elective procedures; however, no official guidance or directive has yet been issued on this point. On April 2, the South Carolina Department of Labor, Licensing and Regulation extended professional licensure renewal deadlines. Governor McMaster issued an order on April 7 directing residents to stay home except for purposes of engaging in essential business, essential activity, or critical infrastructure operations. Violation of the order will be treated as a misdemeanor.

South Dakota: Governor Kristi Noem issued an order on March 23, generally directing individuals to abide by social distancing protocols, employers to encourage remote working arrangements, businesses to suspend or limit in-person operations, healthcare organizations to postpone all non-essential elective surgeries and conserve PPE, and localities to restrict large gatherings. On April 7, Governor Noem issued a stay at home order applicable to certain vulnerable populations; however, South Dakota residents have not been broadly instructed to stay at home. Governor Noem announced on April 13 that South Dakota will be the first state to conduct a comprehensive statewide Hydroxychloroquine clinical trial to treat COVID-19 patients. On April 15, Governor Noem issued an order easing licensure barriers for healthcare professionals and telehealth services, among other measures implemented in response to COVID-19.

Tennessee: On March 22, Governor Bill Lee issued Executive Order 17, directing businesses to reduce on-site workforces and imposing visitor restrictions for long-term care facilities. On March 26, Governor Lee issued Executive Order 20, suspending certain licensure and oversight requirements and restrictions on the ratio of pharmacy technicians to pharmacists. The order introduces additional measures further facilitating remote access to care. On April 2, Governor Lee issued Executive Order 23, requiring Tennesseans to stay at home and for certain non-essential businesses to close, which has been extended through April 30. On April 4, Governor Lee suspended certain licensure requirements to expand the availability of behavioral and mental health services via telehealth. Governor Lee issued Executive Order 25 on April 8, extending restrictions on non-urgent medical and dental through April 30 and further limiting use of PPE and other supplies. On April 17, Governor Lee issued Executive Order 28, relaxing licensure, registration, telehealth and medication dispensing and administration requirements, among other measures. Governor Lee announced on April 20 that Tennessee's Stay at Home order will expire on April 30 and provided for the phased reopening of many businesses starting on May 1.

Texas: On March 22, Governor Greg Abbott issued an order generally directing that all surgeries and procedures that are not immediately medically necessary be postponed, effective through April 21. Governor Abbott implemented new hospital capacity reporting requirements on March 24. On March 28, Governor Abbott waived certain licensing regulations for pharmacy personnel and removed licensing barriers for Advanced Practice Registered Nurses. On March 29, Governor Abbott issued a proclamation requiring travelers arriving in the state from certain highrisk regions to self-quarantine for 14 days. On March 31, Governor Abbott signed an order suggesting, though not requiring, that residents stay at home and minimize non-essential activities. Violation could result in civil or criminal penalties. On April 2, Governor Abbott suspended regulations to increase the number of first responders, and on April 5, he waived certain professional licensure requirements. Governor Abbott also waived certain telehealth requirements to facilitate greater access to remote care and additional professional certification and licensure requirements. A stay at home order has not yet been issued by state authorities. On April 17, Governor Abbott issued Executive Orders GA-15, GA-16, and GA-17 to allow certain retailers to resume operations and loosen restrictions on elective procedures. Certain businesses will begin to reopen on April 24, and hospitals may resume certain procedures on April 21.

U.S. Virgin Islands: On March 23, Governor Albert Bryan, Jr. issued an order prohibiting large gatherings, requiring all citizens to stay at home and generally directing non-essential business operations to cease. Certain essential businesses are exempt from the order, but they are encouraged to employ workforces remotely. On March 30, Governor Bryan issued an amended order extending the State of Emergency through May 12 and the stay at home order through April 30. Violation of the order is punishable as a misdemeanor.

Utah: On March 21 and April 2, Dr. Joseph Miner, the Executive Director of the Utah Department of Health, issued orders imposing limits on operations at dining establishments, large gatherings and certain social activities. Businesses are encouraged to implement remote working arrangements as possible. Dr. Miner issued another order on March 23, directing licensed healthcare practitioners and facilities to postpone all elective surgeries and procedures. On March 26, Governor Gary Herbert issued an order relaxing requirements for telehealth providers. Governor Herbert issued an order on April 8 subjecting travelers entering Utah to certain reporting requirements. On April 10, Governor Herbert extended his "Stay Safe Stay Home" directive through May 1 and provided Utah residents with guidelines on best practices to reduce the spread of COVID-19. State authorities have not yet issued a stay at home order for Utah residents.

Vermont: On March 20, Governor Philip Scott issued an order directing all clinicians to postpone all non-essential adult elective medical and dental procedures. The order will remain in effect until April 15. On March 24, Governor Philip Scott issued another order, requiring residents to stay at home other than for purposes of certain essential activities. Most businesses and nonprofits (other than those in critical sectors) must suspend in-person operations, and all workers must work remotely if possible. On March 30, Governor Scott issued an order requiring anyone traveling to Vermont to self-quarantine for 14 days upon arrival. Governor Scott signed a bill on March 31 relaxing licensure requirements for healthcare professionals, among other measures. On April 10, Governor Scott extended the State of Emergency and all orders and directives through May 15. On April 17, Governor Scott released a plan to resume certain business operations in Vermont while adhering with social distancing protocol.

Virginia: On March 20, Governor Ralph S. Northam signed an order authorizing the State Health Commissioner to increase licensed bed capacity for general hospitals and nursing homes. On March 25, Governor Northam issued an order generally prohibiting hospitals and facilities from providing non-essential procedures and surgeries that require PPE. On March 30, Governor Northam issued a stay at home order generally requiring Virginia residents to stay at home, with exceptions for essential activities, and prohibiting large gatherings. Noncompliance is punishable as a Class 1 misdemeanor. Governor Northam temporarily suspended certain professional licensure restrictions on April 17.

Washington: On March 19, Governor Jay Inslee issued a proclamation, effective until May 18, prohibiting hospitals, ambulatory surgery centers, and dental offices from providing non-emergent healthcare services, subject to limited exceptions. Governor Inslee issued a Stay Home – Stay Healthy Order on March 23, prohibiting Washington residents from leaving their homes other than for purposes of engaging in essential activities or working in a critical sector, effective through April 6. Most large gatherings are prohibited. Non-essential businesses must generally cease operations (other than remote operations) through April 8. Violation of these state measures could result in criminal penalties. On March 25, Governor Inslee issued a proclamation implementing healthcare provider payment parity in providing telemedicine. On April 10, Governor Inslee suspended certain requirements related to the transfer and discharge of nursing home residents to other long-term care facilities. Governor Inslee issued a proclamation giving high-risk workers the right to protect themselves from COVID-19 without jeopardizing their employment status or loss of income. On April 10, Governor Inslee suspended certain requirements related to the transfer and discharge of nursing home residents to other long-term care facilities. Governor Inslee issued a proclamation giving high-risk workers the right to protect themselves from COVID-19 without jeopardizing their employment status or loss of income.

West Virginia: Governor Jim Justice issued an order on March 23, directing residents to stay home unless engaged in essential activities or working in critical sectors. Non-elective medical care is explicitly deemed to be a permissible essential activity by the order, and by implication, elective medical care is not. Certain essential businesses may continue in-person operations; however, non-essential business operations are generally directed to operate remotely. On March 30, Governor Justice issued an order requiring individuals traveling from areas with substantial community spread to isolate for 14 days upon entry into West Virginia, with certain exceptions. In an April 17 order, Governor Justice directed all nursing home residents and staff to be tested for COVID-19.

Wisconsin: On March 24, Secretary-designee of the Department of Health Services, Andrea Palm, issued the Safer At Home Order, requiring all residents to remain at home until May 26, subject to limited exceptions. Restrictions on non-essential businesses will be gradually relaxed starting on April 24. Violation of the order could result in fines or imprisonment. On April 3, Governor Tony Evers issued an order suspending certain healthcare provider and facility licensure requirements.

Wyoming: On March 19, State Health Officer, Alexia Harrist, issued an order directing that places of public accommodation be closed. On March 20, Officer Harrist issued another order, prohibiting large gatherings, subject to broad exceptions for healthcare and long-term care facilities. Both orders have been extended through April 30 and any violation could result in criminal prosecution. On April 3, Governor Mark Gordon issued a directive requiring certain travelers arriving in the state from high-risk regions self-quarantine for 14 days. No stay at home order has been issued by state authorities.

28018529.12